

Please remember to ask for permission before painting on private property.
Please only park in areas where it is obvious others have parked – don't create new disturbed areas.

ACCESSED VIA PAVED ROADS

1. Along HWY 12 between Escalante and Boulder – numerous places to pull off road and paint sandstone, big views, canyons
2. Along HWY 12 over Boulder Mountain – aspen stands and big views across Capitol Reef National Park
3. Along Burr Trail Road – runs east out of Boulder – variety of landscapes and colors, textures, and landforms
4. Historic buildings in Escalante – old brick buildings that date back to late 1800s
5. Agricultural fields and pastures around edges of Escalante – especially south along Center Street or north along Pine Creek Lane – green pastures edges by colorful sandstone buttes
6. Agricultural fields and pastures around Boulder – green pastures and fields surrounded by white sandstone mounds
7. Head of the Rocks Overlook - 10 miles east of Escalante along HWY 12 – big views across Escalante Canyons
8. Long Canyon along Burr Trail Road – 12 miles after leaving Boulder – narrow, dark red sandstone canyon with high vertical walls
9. Long Canyon Slot Canyon – 13 miles after leaving Boulder on left side of road – stunning but accessible slot canyon just off road
10. Circle Cliffs Overlook – east end of Long Canyon along Burr Trail – XX miles from Boulder – sweeping views across Circle Cliffs toward Water Pocket Fold, with color Chinle outcropping immediately below
11. Powell Point – viewed from The Blues Overlook or along HWY 12 – west of Escalante ~ 18 miles – iconic pink cliffs point that can be seen from far distances

ACCESSED VIA DIRT ROADS

12. Along Main Canyon Road (~4 miles west of town to north) – golden cliffs, dirt road, riparian corridor
13. Along Pine Creek Road toward Hell's Backbone and Posey Lake – colorful, jagged monocline along east side of road
14. Devil's Garden – ~ 12 miles down Hole in the Rock Road (road is dirt and wash-boarded) – features hoodoos, natural arches and other sandstone formations.
15. Hells Backbone Road – road provides access to edges of Box – Death Hollow Wilderness Area – best views are from Hells Backbone Bridge – 25 miles from Escalante
16. Spencer Flat/Sheffield Road – 11 miles from Escalante off HWY 12 – interesting geologic formations, varying sandstone features and textures, expansive views
17. Barker Reservoirs – 20 miles from Escalante at end of North Creek Road – high elevation lakes surrounded by aspens and alpine forest
18. The Box – lower end of canyon in Box Death Hollow Wilderness Area – gold and salmon, jagged sandstone cliffs along narrow, riparian corridor

ACCESSED VIA HIKING

19. Along Escalante River – enter either from trailhead east of town behind cemetery or at trailhead off HWY 12 next to bridge over river – high, colorful, vertical cliffs surrounding a lush riparian corridor
20. Lower Calf Creek Falls – (fee area) – hike ~3 mile trail to Lower Calf Creek Falls – red, buff and salmon sandstone canyon with lush riparian corridor in floor – fall is 120ft+ and spectacular